

Les Cant, vice-chairman of Lincoln Level Shots handing the vacuum splint to Shane Snell watched by Mel Jacob, Kevan Wright (5th right) and members of Lincoln Level Shots.

Grateful shooting club lends support to LIVES

WHEN Mel Jacob broke her leg she was grateful for the swift attention of members of the LIVES team, but her initial treatment would have been helped by a vacuum splint to support her leg.

While out walking with neighbour Cheryl Doyle and their dogs, Mel, wife of Lincoln Level Shots member and Nettleton Lodge Shooting School owner Ben Jacob, fell and broke her leg in four places.

She was attended by LIVES volunteer Kevan Wright and LIVES paramedic and trainer assessor Shane Snell, but neither had a vacuum splint in their vehicles.

As a consequence, Lincoln Level Shots fundraising and clay shooting club presented LIVES with a specialist vacuum splint set ahead of its annual fancy dress sponsored turkey shoot at Nettleton Lodge.

Mel said: "I would like to thank Kevan and Shane for their help, the ambulance crew, the staff at the hospital for their kindness and care and especially my neighbour, Cheryl Doyle, and everyone else who has helped me over the last few weeks since the accident."